TEMU NANA

“South India: Unexplored”

Monday, May 24, 2021

7:00 pm

OPEN TO THE PUBLIC

Join DPS member Temu Nana for a journey through the spectacular, unexplored regions and cultures of South India. Unlike the heavily toured areas of Rajasthan and Uttar Pradesh in the northern half of the subcontinent, the south provides a completely different feeling; less commercial but no less colorful, buzzing with energy, and bursting with cultural traditions, festivities, and unfailingly welcoming citizens. Like all of India, the south is an absolute feast for the senses...and also the lens. Through dozens of images taken on several trips to the region, Temu will share with you a little slice of what makes this region such a delight for travelers, both culturally and photographically. This is a follow-up to his article on India in the March issue of The Reflector.

Temu Nana is a professional tour manager and trip designer for small group photographic and educational travel. Through his work with Open Sky Expeditions, he has led small groups of photographers on photo expeditions to all seven continents. He has presented webinars to DPS on the night sky and deep space astrophotography.
